Greetings!

We are pleased to announce that for 2008:

- ESH is available online. You may subscribe to the print version, online version, or both.

- Online access is provided through a partnership with MetaPress.
- Online subscriptions include full back-issue access (back to vol. 1) for the duration of your online subscription. If in the future you do not renew your online subscription, you will maintain access, in perpetuity, to the issues for the year(s) your online subscription was valid for, but will not have access to the extra back-issues. (As an example, if you subscribe to online access for the membership year 2008, but do not renew for 2009, then in 2008 you will have full back-issue access to the journal in addition to the 2008 volume (vol. 27), but in 2009 you will only have online access to vol. 27.)

- We no longer have different dues rates for non-US institutions ☺
